Join us as we conclude our webinar series on youth sexual exploitation and human trafficking. This training seeks to address the complexities of working with youth survivors. This webinar will focus on youth mental health, engaging youth in services, and best practices for providing services to the youth population. Survivor advocate and case manager, Kim White will use her story to illustrate the importance of identifying and supporting youth survivors. You will hear from the coordinators of the multiple regional and the statewide human trafficking task forces that will end with a call to action and information on relevant resources.

Please note you did not have to attend Part I, II, or III to attend this webinar
